The floor plan is divided into three main construction sections:

- 1. BAUABSCHNITT (Green area): Located in the upper left and center, containing several residential units and a central corridor.
- 2. BAUABSCHNITT (Blue area): Located in the lower right, containing a large residential unit and a central corridor.
- 3. BAUABSCHNITT (Red area): Located in the lower left, containing a large residential unit and a central corridor.

The plan also shows three residential wings:

- 1. RW (Red area): Located in the center, containing a large residential unit.
- 2. RW (Blue area): Located in the lower right, containing a large residential unit.
- 3. RW (Red area): Located in the lower left, containing a large residential unit.

The plan includes various rooms, corridors, and structural elements, with dimensions and room numbers indicated throughout.

The image is a detailed architectural floor plan of a building, likely a residential or institutional structure, divided into three main construction sections (Bauabschnitt) and three residential wings (RW).

- 1. BAUABSCHNITT (Green Area): Located in the upper left and center, this section contains several large rooms, corridors, and staircases. It is labeled "1. BAUABSCHNITT" in green text.
- 2. BAUABSCHNITT (Blue Area): Located in the lower right, this section contains multiple rooms and corridors. It is labeled "2. BAUABSCHNITT" in blue text.
- 3. BAUABSCHNITT (Red Area): Located in the lower left, this section is labeled "3. BAUABSCHNITT" in red text. Below this label, it says "Haupttreppenhaus" (Main Staircase).
- 1. RW (Red Area): A residential wing located in the center-right, labeled "1. RW" in red text.
- 2. RW (Blue Area): A residential wing located in the lower right, labeled "2. RW" in red text.
- 3. RW (Red Area): A residential wing located in the lower left, labeled "3. RW" in red text.

The plan includes numerous smaller labels for rooms, corridors, and staircases, as well as dimensions and structural details. The overall layout shows a complex arrangement of spaces designed for residential use.
